Focus on Life. Meet All Challenges With Confidence

As we are exposed to the many and different dimensions of student life here at Woodward, we become determined to focus on our academic and social goals.

When we progress throughout our four years of high school, learning never ceases. Each day of living brings us new wisdom and, with time even the wisest student becomes wiser.

Woodward offers us many opportunities to develop socially. While we make new friends, or serve as class officers, or play in a marching band- whatever we do- the ability to get along with others becomes a necessity, both inside and outside of the classroom.

This ability receives one of its greatest tests in athletics. Sports become an arena of personal growth where qualities of self- assurance, cooperation, annd integrity emerge.

We must never allow any apprehensions to stand in our way when focusing on our currenty goals.

A View of Life Through Academics

An education isn't how much you have committed to memory, or even how much you know. Academics, as expressed in a high school curriculum, is an integral part of high school. Through the basic courses of English, math, and science, we accept new thoughts or theories while we hold on to things we find useful.

Success in academics consists of reaching a goal that you set for yourself. An ideal learning situation is one in which you set progressively more difficult tasks for yourself and perservere until you succeed.

A Fun Break From the Classroom-

Students and Faculty Get Involved

An athlete puts forth a special effort in his quest for the title, "champion." This quest demands of him a combination of physical skill and strength along with an alert mind. His focus is on winning, but he respects his opponent and must accept defeat gracefully. He constantly seeks success.

Sports are a very important part of school life; not only do they keep us healthy, but they also allow us to observe and see a small part of us improve.

Administration "Gets Together"

for a Golden Year

Dr. Donald Steele, newly-appointed Superintendent of Toledo Public Schools, has a new theme for Toledo schools: "Let's Get Together". This theme is evident in all the facets of Woodward's administrative staff.

Mr. Vincent Contrada, Principal of Woodward, has been a teacher and an assistant principal prior to his appointment to Woodward High School in 1977. He was also a high school coach in football, basketball, and baseball sports programs.

Mr. Contrada's goals for this year, with the cooperation of the faculty, are to improve attendance and to develop reading skills. With this in mind, Mr. Contrada plans to meet with the faculty and discuss the problems of each department and implement feasible solutions. He also plans to revise both the faculty and student handbooks.

In his column in the "Tattler" he stresses that "Woodward students have a charm that I have not observed in other schools. You are very proud people, happy to belong to Woodward High School."

Mr. Robert Geis, Assistant Principal of Activities, oversees all class activities and Student Council projects. With nearly 2,200 students at Woodward, the coordination of these programs is an enormous task.

Mr. Robert Rittichier, Assistant Principal of Pupil Personnel, is in charge of student discipline. This includes: speaking with both teachers and parents, attending court hearings, and keeping in close contact with the police on such matters.

Mrs. Doris Hall, Assistant Principal of Instruction, works closely with the faculty. She prepares scanning sheets, drafts master schedules for the up-coming year, and evaluates student courses.

Counselors Promote Understanding

Students often find themselves in a dilemma. There are times when even after gathering information they find it difficult to make decisions. At such times there are four counselors willing to help.

Mr. Moffett directs the recruiting for the Armed Services. He introduces students to Armed Service Careers and schedules any informational programs with the representatives from the four branches of military service.

Involved with college testing is Mr. Kedzierski, who administers various tests for pre-college entrance exams. The Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery, (ASVAB), is a test for juniors and seniors who wish to explore their military or job strengths and weaknesses. The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test,(PSAT),compares Woodward's college-bound students on a percentile ranking scale with students from all over the country.

The college counselor is Mrs. Winquist who gives students advice about colleges. In addition, she organizes meetings between college-bound students and representatives from area colleges.

College and career guidance programs are under the direction of Mrs. Marie Williamson.

Mrs. Bolden, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Davis, Dean of Boys, supervise student discipline procedures. Scheduling meetings with parents and keeping accurate reports for the school and the community are just two of the many functions they perform.

Mrs. Silverman, Visiting Teacher, serves as the liaison between the school and home. One of the principle reasons for visitations with parents is a student's poor attendance record.

Office Ladies Perform Various Tasks

Ringing telephones, clattering typewriters, and muffled conversations are common sounds in Woodward's control center, recognized also as the main office.

Head Clerk, Mrs. Charlotte Duenki, handles confidential student information. She sends high school transcripts to all employers and colleges. She also oversees graduation procedures for seniors.

School Treasurer, Mrs. Patricia Zawodny, is required by the state auditor to make an accounting of all monies deposited and withdrawn. For the magazine drive alone, she handled $14,000.00.

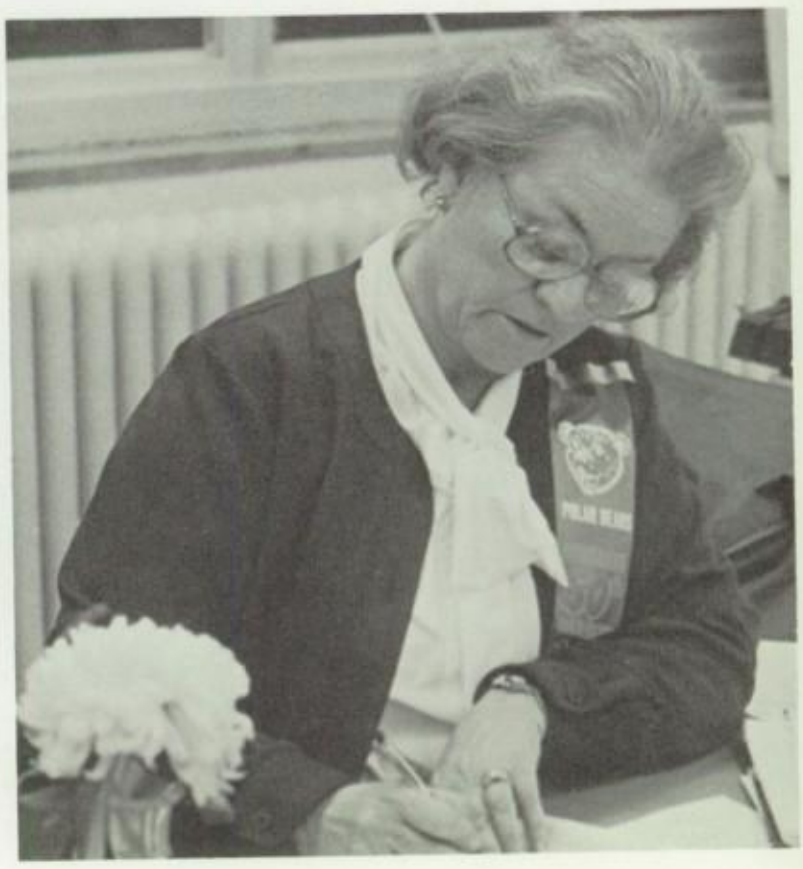
Book Clerk, Mrs. Gertrude Szymaniak, takes book inventories and gathers books needing rebinding. She is also responsible for keeping an accurate record of teacher attendance.

A new addition to the main office is Mrs. Helen Neikirk, who types the daily announcements, handles bus card information, and helps those entering the office who need assistance.

Operating the computer terminal for class scheduling is Mrs. Mary Anne Sperry. She is also Mrs. Hall's secretary.

Keeping a record of student attendance is Mrs. Carole Tovatt. In addition, she is in charge of student enrollment and withdrawals.

Together, these six ladies manage to keep W.H.S. running smoothly.



TOP, Mrs. Duenki telephones neighboring schools to inform them of up-and-coming events. ABOVE, Mrs. Niekirk files records for future reference. RIGHT, Mrs. Szymaniak checks through the attendance list.

Academic Study Promotes

Woodward has designed an academic course of study to promote a challenging environment for individual growth.

The curriculum includes three basic areas of academic study: the humanities, the natural sciences, and the social sciences. The humanities introduce the student to the fine arts and challenge his potential as a thoughtful and reasoning person. The natural sciences acquaint the student to the kind of problems which lend themselves to possible solutions through the use of science. The social sciences require the student to examine the fundamental ideas upon which our society is built through an analysis of the various social groups within the society.

The state of Ohio requires that a student accumulates 17 units of credit in order to graduate. This normally involves four years of study. Two years of social studies, one year of science, and one year of mathematics are included in the requirements. In addition, to complete this core curriculum, the student must declare two major fields and two minors. Three years of English, with both literature and composition courses, comprise one of the majors.

Careers Explored Through

Vocational training provides a student with practical experience in a particular occupational field. Through this experience he is able to obtain a part-time job.

Area students wishing to obtain secretarial skills may be attracted to a variety of courses offered in Woodward's skill center. A fine catering program is available where students receive in school experience by working in a dining facility patronized by area residents. A graphic arts department which accepts many printing assignments from Woodward administration and other organizations in school is also offered. These are only a few of the vocational choices available at Woodward High School.

Additional knowledge may be the ingredient needed to land a better job. Some students go on to attend an area technical school such as Owens or Terra Technical Colleges where they finish the product started in Woodward's Skill Center.

In 1977 Woodward organized a special career guidance program for gifted students. This two-year program introduces students to skills not obtained in other high school courses.

The sophomores in this program come from the top ten percent of the Sophomore class. Each is a member of a high ability English II. class and maintains a 3.4 grade point average. The top half of this group will focus in its Junior year on college preparatory programs, group guidance, and maintenance of skills.

Through this class, students increase reading comprehension and reading rate through the study of skills taught in English I. They improve vocabulary by focusing upon word derivations and analogies.

To expand cultural awareness and supplement curricular activities, this program includes some extracurricular activities throughout the school year. Visits to Stratford, Canada for Shakespearean plays and trips to Toledo University for Convocation programs and musical recitals are among the many enrichment experiences.

These students are lead by an experienced and devoted teacher, Mrs. Marie Williamson. She has been in the teaching field for twenty-five years. She has been a counselor since her appointment in 1971. Prior to this appointment, she was an English teacher and Dean of Girls. Currently, Mrs. Williamson instructs students in career guidance.

Support Staff Offers Its Services

The beginning of the '78 school year witnessed a newly-acquired system of serving food. The main difference is that food is prepared in a centralized kitchen and heated at the district schools.

The menu is sent monthly and subject to change. It consists of a variety of foods such as macaroni, meatloaf, and occasionally a favorite pizza. Other meal options include "brownbagging it" or visiting the "munchies machines" for snacks.

A devoted and hard-working custodial staff keeps the school immaculate. Before, during, and after school the different crews make Woodward a comfortable place in which to be.

Seniors Salute Woodward's 50th

For this year's fiftieth Homecoming celebration each class was assigned a specific decade of the last fifty years in which to incorporate a theme for a float. For the decade of the '60's, the Senior Class decided upon a theme of "Beatles Salute Woodward's 50th."

This float was assembled at Pat Grzecki's house and consisted of a giant, powder blue, three-tiered cake which rotated. On each side of the cake stood a Beatle dressed in a black suit with a musical instrument.

This was the second time the class of '79 secured first place. Last year as Juniors the class also won first place for its float entitled, "It's a Good Year."

Friday, October 13, 1978, was an extremely eventful day for the Seniors. Mixed emotions anticipated this day's activities; but the excitement of the morning mass meeting, the coronation of Queen Lucille Lewis, the 28-13 victory by the Bears, and the Varsity Drag made perfect the last Homecoming for the Class of '79.

Senior Advisors. . . A Dynamic Duo

The class of 1979 is extremely fortunate for the guidance it has received throughout its four years at Woodward High.

Mr. Leo Florkowski, who specializes in teaching American History to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, has been a member of the Polar Bear staff for nine years. Mr. "Butch" Florkowski, a former graduate of Woodward, has been an advisor to the class of '79 since its freshman year, and has always had time to help through any crisis or activity.

Mr. Ray Attie, the second member of the dynamic duo, is an expert in the field of science. He has been at Woodward for eight years. During this time he has been an advisor to the Booster Club for four and one half years, and this year he has served as senior class advisor. Mr. Attie's talents extend the range of artist to guitar player. His guitar selections include his own renditions of the "golden oldies".

The class of 1979 would like to express its sincere thanks and appreciation to these wonderful men for the many hours of interest they have given to the class of 1979.

Juniors Capture Homecoming Victories

During the week of Homecoming, the Junior Class was kept busy. They not only used those last, all-important days working on the float, but found other outputs for their overflowing spirit. They worked on the Homecoming banner and sold and bought Booster membership cards, Homecoming mums, and spirit links. The anticipation and excitement climaxed and was at its very peak by Friday as the preparations for Homecoming came to a close and the festivities began to unwind.

Optimistically, the Juniors attended the mass meeting. Their wishes became realities and the work of many was rewarded as announcements were made concerning traditional Homecoming events. The Junior Class had captured first in the banner competition, first in mum sales, first in the Booster membership drive, and first in the spirit link competition. Charged with four victories, they looked forward to hearing the float competition announcements and a victory in the afternoon's game.

This year, Homecoming was the Golden Fiftieth Celebration and to celebrate the fifty years, each class and faculty were given a decade as a theme for their float. The decade for the Junior float was the 1940's and the theme was "The Best Homecoming." The float itself showed the homecoming of a male polar bear returning victoriously from World War II. The results were announced at half-time and the Juniors were proud and happy to receive second place. Everyone spent game time cheering their support, as the football team took a Homecoming victory.

Homecoming 1978 brought many spirit points and much happiness to the Class of 1980. Working together, the Juniors made it the most exciting they have experienced and Homecoming 1979 will have a tough act to follow.

Job Specification Organizes Officers

What does a class need to make it the best it can be? Besides people interested in the class, the first thing it needs is organization. Early in the school year, the Junior Class chose six officers who they felt could properly organize them and their activities.

Elected President was Tom Ilstrup. He delegated responsibilities among the officers and initiated a phone committee. This committee called the Juniors to let them know about coming events. Yvonne Belair, Tom's "right hand man" as Vice-President, planned all of the Junior activities. Rose Allred not only took care of her many duties as Secretary, but also the sale of the "We're Shooting for No. 1" badges. Besides handling all class money matters, Treasurer Dennis Meacham directed the production of Junior signs throughout the year. Reporter Julie Harvey kept the teachers as well as the students aware of all Junior activities. Officer activities were planned and supervised by Brian Ellis, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Advisors Direct Class of 1980 to the Top

For the third year, the Class of 1980 was guided by their advisors, Mr. Richard Hoffman and Mr. David McMurray. Finding time from many other activities, these advisors helped their class in any way they could.

Mr. Hoffman graduated from Woodward and returned in 1969 as a teacher. He is a member of the English department staff, co-advisor of Aequatatis, and was kept busy as director of this year's "Extravaganza," Drama Club Play, and the Junior-Senior play. Mr. McMurray serves as advisor of not only the Junior Class, but the Outdoor Adventure Club and Student Council as well. He teaches history throughout the day and spends many hours both before and after school as a Drivers' Education instructor. Both men also find time to work together as the Quiz Bowl team advisors.

Officers 'Team-Up' to Produce Super Results

Class officers don many roles that require important qualities. Two of these responsibilities include assisting their advisors and representing their class opinions. They also volunteer their time, willingness, and enthusiasm. The amounts they give of each merge to form their successfulness.

As in every election, the members of the class of "81" had difficult choices to make when selecting their officers. Those who voted, decided upon the following classmates to work with the advisors in leading the Sophomore class. Elected were: Rich Dietsch, President; Jim Bobak, Vice-President; Janet Salimbeni, Secretary; Terri DeCair, Treasurer; Kelly Hobbs, Reporter; and Karen Meyers, Sergeant at Arms.

Advisors Accelerate Class of 1981

The sophomore class, like any other class, would not be able to accomplish much without the assistance of their advisors, Mr. McGill and Mrs. Davies.

Mr. McGill, a graduate of Woodward, returned three years ago to pursue his career in teaching. His first year was spent as a hall monitor and quite frequently as a substitute. He has been promoted and, presently, is a physical education teacher.

Mrs. Davies, at Woodward for two years, replaces Mr. Braggs as sophomore advisor. Mrs. Davies' first year here was spent as a substitute and later as an English teacher.

The sophomores, themselves, aren't the only ones that have to learn the techniques of producing a successful class. Their class advisors, in the process of helping the sophomores learn these strategies, are gaining experience to be successful class advisors.

Class of '82 Elects First Cabinet

Everyone knew when freshman elections came along. Student Council, after gathering petitions, put eligible candidates on the ballots. Soon, badges and banners were seen everywhere. In the auditorium, speeches were nervously given, and voting began. New officers were announced soon after.

The same routine was followed this year, as in years past. Upon completion of the election formalities, each officer received duties and responsibilities varying according to the office they held. Throughout the year each was actively involved, encouraging other freshmen to compete in the traditional heated race for spirit points.

Without a doubt, the freshman officers have set examples of enthusiastic leadership. With their advisors, they have succeeded in making the "class of 82" a recognized portion of Woodward High School's student body.

Super Advisors Aid Frosh

Two talented and energetic ladies, Mrs. Edith Scott and Miss Paulette Zych are this year's advisors to the freshman class.

Mrs. Edith Scott, who has been working at Woodward for fifteen years, takes time from her duties as a Home Economics teacher to devote the necessary energy to the class of '82.

A Woodward graduate, Miss Paulette Zych has been teaching English and French courses since 1972. In recent years, she has served as director of the Polarettes and Flag Corps.

Combining ideas and experience, Mrs. Scott and Miss Zych have created a solid foundation for the graduating class of '82.

Frosh Deal With New Experiences

For the freshmen, the first year at Woodward is spent getting to know new people, places and things. They participate in many events very different from their grade school routine.

A first for the freshmen this year was the designing of a homecoming float with the theme, "Massacre the Macmen". Also, in the sign competition, freshmen won first place with a detailed portrayal of a circus. Exam days were also a new experience for freshmen as they tried the frenzied studying techniques used by all the upperclassmen.

The Class of '82 will eventually master the ways at Woodward, and will set some new trends of its own.

Homecoming '78... the Queen and Court

Do you remember your first Homecoming? Each one is more memorable than the last. This year's event was a special one for Lucille Lewis for she was presented with the title of Woodward's 1978 Homecoming Queen.

Lucille is a Booster and band member and was once a Freshman Class officer. Three years' experience of baton twirling in the Woodward Band has gained her recognition as Head Majorette.

Friday the thirteenth was everything but bad luck for Lucille and her Court; Kim Armbrust, Pam Kusina, Clevetta Minor, and Cindy Miranda. During half time the girls, accompanied by their escorts, graced the football field and were presented to the crowd in Golden Eagle jeeps through the courtesy of the American Jeep Corporation.

Having shared an honor that so few girls experience, these five individuals returned home at the conclusion of an exhausting day. The events are now memories pressed in the pages of time....

Floats Revive 50 Yrs. of Memories

Building a frame, shaping chicken wire, incorporating movable parts into the structure for desired effects, lacquering, and pomping are just a few of the techniques which are employed in float construction. Creativity and skill are essential factors!

The float competition this year was among the four classes and the Faculty. Because this year was the celebration of Woodward's fiftieth Homecoming, the Booster club assigned each class a decade from which to choose a fitting theme.

The Senior float depicted the Sixties with the "Beatles," a rock and roll group that was popular then, performing around a three-tiered anniversary cake. With the Forties as their decade, the Juniors animated a Polar Bear welcoming back an ex-serviceman at the end of World War II. Appropriately, its theme was "The Best Homecoming." The Sophomores portrayed one of Elvis Presley's hit songs of the Fifties, "Jailhouse Rock". There were two MacMen locked in a jail with a Polar Bear acting as the overseer. The Freshman float was an illustration of the Thirties with the much-acclaimed fearless pair, Bonnie and Clyde, in Polar Bear attire, massacring the MacMen who were against a brick wall. This year the Faculty experimented with float building. Their float was a model of Woodward's Skill Center surrounded by cutouts of figures representing the various sports introduced to Woodward's athletic program in the Seventies.

The colorful floats highlighted the annual Homecoming parade before the game against Macomber. Woodward's Fiftieth Homecoming was indeed a memorable day for those who shared in it.

'79 Calendar of Musical Events

During the course of a school year, some band members participate in 90 musical engagements. Colorful football half-time shows, numerous parades, and pep rallies are some of these commitments. Christmas, Winter, and Spring concert band programs, visits to area grade schools in the Spring, and individual band members' performances at music contests are other musical contributions made by the band. This year the playing for the opening game of the Toledo Mud Hens was a highlight for this busy group!

In preparation for this year, the 54 instrumentalists, 28-member flag corps, majorettes, and drum major spent six days at the Erie County 4-H camp on Kelly's Island. Five hours of strenuous marching and three hours of sheet music drill made up their work day. The sounds and sights of this year's band are obvious signs that these hours at band camp were well spent.

Every year, tuition scholarships to Ball State University summer music camps are awarded to individual band members. These students undergo intensive music instruction from professional musicians. This year's scholarship recipients were saxophonist Laura LaChapelle, horn player Sue Edwards, baritone David Middaugh, string bass player Gary Bonnough and violinist Cheryl Merz.

Orchestra "Strings Up" Eventful Year

The Junior Band and Orchestra meet daily with Mr. Haga, director, to utilize old skills and reinforce new ones. Their routine practice sessions are interrupted when techniques are applied outside of the band room. The Junior Band receives on the job training when they accompany the Senior Band during one half-time show. The Orchestra administers a tactful performance at the Junior Honor Society induction.

Members of each group sold calendars, collected donations, and sponsored grapefruit sales and meat raffles to support the instrumental music program. Proceeds from these endeavors were used for Band Camp, uniforms, and the annual Band Banquet.

Choral Tradition Is Upheld

The Vienna Boys' Choir may not have presented its traditional Christmas concert, but Woodward's vocalists surely did. Under Mr. Simpson's direction, the Choraliers prepared for over 20 concerts, with the Christmas special as a highlight of the year.

Also through Mr. Simpson's guidance the Freshman Girls' chorus and the Men's chorus gave 2 concerts this past year. In its third year, the Guitar Class now has 15 members and appears to be gaining popularity.

Mr. Simpson obviously has his hands full instructing approximately 125 vocalists and instrumentalists. Yet, listening to any section of the chorus proves that he's done an excellent job.

Many activities at Woodward High School are directed by the students. This is done by the student council, a group of individuals chosen to represent the student body. This executive board promotes the school's activities and welfare, develops relations and habits of good citizenship between students and faculty, and assists in school management.

Council members have a direct line of communication via the student council suggestion locker located outside of room 220. Mr David McMurray serves as a source of advice for this organization.

There are nine officers elected to direct school affairs and ten representatives elected from each class to assist them in this direction.

A few projects of the student council include giving the daily announcements, collecting canned goods for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, managing the magazine drive, and posting bulletin boards for the graffitti fiends.

Tattler Staff "Presses" for Perfection

News flash: "Tattler Staff Gives Up. . . Much of Its Time and Energy to Meet Deadlines."

Staff members initiate a story by investigative reporting and pooling facts. When the rough draft is completed, the editor corrects grammatical errors and sentence structure. Only after Miss Markopoulos, advisor, gives her final approval does the story reach the print shop.

Keith Lefevre, Editor-In-Chief, and Paul Vargo, Senior Editor, alternate writing editorials for the bi-weekly editions. Paul's imaginative column, "Whims", and Keith's column, "The History of Woodward High School", also make frequent appearances.

An aspect originated this year is the Tattler subscription program. Students purchase a card for two dollars which allows them to receive the Tattler for the school year. This endeavor is a welcome addition as students become more familiar with the advantages of the program.

The Junior reporters, Felicia Edwards, Tina Jones, Teo Kalinowski, and Sharon Mohn, experience the first few months "in training" in a classroom situation. Here they learn the art of informative writing which will be practically applied as they become acquainted with the tactics of running a school newspaper.

Extravaganza '78

Presenting Woodward's 1978 Extrav... GODSPELL. A rock version of the gospel according to St. Matthew, GODSPELL, is basically a celebration - a celebration of basic Christianity as witnessed by the life of Jesus, a celebration of His teachings, and a celebration of life itself.

Each year an Extrav is produced, Sammy Awards are presented to two of the company's players for best on-stage and off-stage contributions. This year's Sammy Awards were given to Tom Ilstrup, who artistically portrayed the leading role of Stephen, and bass player, Duvall Overton, for off-stage excellence.

Mr. Richard Hoffman has directed Woodward High School musicals since 1966. He has also supervised plays at Clay and Northwood high schools. With the combined efforts of the cast, orchestra, and stage crew, he executed a very successful production run.

"Down to Earth" Entertainment Found in Donkey Basketball Game

"Woah, boy, woah!" was a familiar phrase which echoed the walls of Woodward's gymnasium on November 8, 1978. The wild and crazy event was the Donkey Basketball game sponsored by the baseball team.

Students and teachers dressed appropriately for the occasion in blue jeans, flannel shirts and cowboy hats. Participants rode donkeys the length of the court in hopes of scoring for their team. Points were awarded only when a player made a basket while sitting on his donkey. The final score was 24 - 22 in favor of the faculty.

The crowning of the king and queen highlighted Donkey Day. Roger Riggs was the Donkey King. The title of Donkey Queen was shared by Tracey Schmuhl and Jackie Turnbull. Each was presented with a bouquet of carrots and a horse-shoe.

Athletic Events Planned Successfully

Who organizes fund-raising activities for the Athletic Department? Who arranges the schedule of athletic events so that they seldom overlap? Our athletic director, Mr. Wilusz, does. He enlists a staff of students to help him with the never-ending tasks involved in co-ordinating these events.

The athletic office staff sells tickets for the games, types out game programs, keeps accurate financial statements, and publicizes the various athletic contests.

Greg Jagielski and Dave Middaugh are new additions to a traditionally female staff. The girls on the staff are Tina Anderson, Linda Losek, Jackie Holewinski, Michelle Roberts, Rosie Suwinski, Carol Vasquez, Diane Wioland, and Bev Zollweg.

The most impressive record yet for girls' tennis at Woodward High School was achieved this past season. An overall season record of 8 wins and 4 losses has left the coach, Mrs. Jane Cox, very pleased with her team. She feels that their efforts and self-confidence have greatly assisted them.

After beginning practice on August 16th, the girls practiced every day until school began. During the school year, in the course of their 10-week season, they tried to fit in one practice every week and participated in matches 3 days of the week.

Leading the team, playing first singles, was Senior Kathy Rasczyk with a 6-5 record, Senior Bonnie Rasczyk at 9-1, and Sophomore Ann Marie Pakulski whose persistence on the courts earned her an 8-3 record. All City Honorable Mentions were received by Bonnie and Kathy Rasczyk.

The excellent team standings are an obvious result of continuous practice, the good attitude of the team members, and a great effort put forth by both the coach and the team.

Lepiarz Leads Cross Country Team Through a Tough Season

Distance running is a grueling, ndividualistic sport. It takes skill, dedication, sacrifice, and stamina- our traits which this year's cross country team personifies.

Under the leadership of new coach erry Szelagowski, our young team as worked hard this season. Running hree to six miles a day and sprinting ills at practices have enabled the ive-man team to show its Woodward pirit in all phases of competition.

Luie Soto received honorable nention in the city meet this year while Dale Lepiarz, after consistently placing first or second in every meet, earned 2nd Team All-City honors. Both harriers did exceptionally well in he sectional tournaments and Dale advanced to the District Meets.

New Head Coach Leads Polar Bears

The crisp autumn air. . . the sounds of drum cadences. . . the scores of screaming spectators. . . yes, it's the beginning of another football season at Woodward and with it is planted anew the seed of hope for a successful season.

Adding to the apprehension was the acquiring at a new head coach. Coming down from the college coaching to be head coach at his alma mater was Donald Lewis, affectionately called "Ducky."

Starting the 1978 football season, the Woodward Polar Bears lassoed the Cowboys 13 to 12. Reggie Murdock, Robert Lampkin and Deldon Fane each scored a touchdown while running back Garrett Whitlock ran in two TD's one from a theft in the Cowboy's backfield.

In their next game the Bears were scalped by Waite in a 10 to 7 contest. With three seconds left in the game, the Indian coaches used a little known rule which enabled them, unopposed, to complete a 51-yard field goal.

The Bears, meeting their backyard rival, Central Catholic, had to settle for a 7 to 7 tie in the first City League Red Division Game. The first half contained the only successful scoring drives for both teams. Outstanding defensive players in the game were Charlie Hobbs, Joe Washington, Wesley Worm, Robert Taylor and Garret Whitlock, all of whom achieved All City Red Divison status.

Though typified by many as a day of bad luck and failure, Friday the 13th had no such hold over Woodward. On that day the Polar Bears, playing in their Homecoming against Macomber, mangled the Macmen 28 to 13.

At the DeVilbiss game pep assembly, coach Lewis set the mood for the remainder of the season when he explained the Bears position: "We're the only ones who know we're still in the race for the Red Division Title. We're going to take one game at a time. There is no team left on our schedule that we can't beat." Living up to this prophecy, the Polar Bears won the next two games: 22 to 12 over DeVilbiss, and 14 to 7 over Scott. Garrett Whitlock chalked up four touchdowns in those two games while quarterback George McCormack ran in for another.

Excitement, however, waned in the final game of the season. Playing for the Red Division Title, the Bears faced the Start Spartans on a cold Sunday in front of a crowd of nearly 2400 fans. From th initial kickoff, when the Spartans returned the ball 85 yard for a touchdown, Start seemed in control of the gam Although the Polar Bears received a few breaks with fumbl recoveries and interceptions, they couldn't capitalize o them and endedup losing to Start, 21 to 6.

Head coach Lewis, in his first season at Woodward, guide the Bears to a record of 4-4-1 (3-1-1 in the Red Division), jus short of the Red Division Title.

Frosh Basketball Team Merits Credit

The Freshman Basketball team devoted much time and effort to playing basketball. Led by rookie coach Tom Inman, these freshman gleam with more gumption and undying spirit than what has ever been seen in most teams. Even with a very discouraging record, these freshman boys never gave up. These same boys will comprise the JV and Varsity teams next year. Any team members who are willing to keep going even when the odds are against them, definitely deserve the pride and confidence of the students at Woodward High School.

Bears "Set-up" Record Breaking Season at 22-4

In 1976, the SAGA headline read, "Volleyers Reach New Heights With Record Breaking Season." This year the 1978 varsity volleyball team, under the guidance of a dedicated coach, Jim Bounds, broke previous school records and set new ones. Lead by 6 seniors, they surpassed the 20-3 mark established in 1975 with an outstanding 22-4 season.

The Bears reached the Sectionals by crushing Libbey, and outlasting the Tigers of DeVilbiss in a thrilling 3 game match. Central proved tough for the varsity squad, as the team's season was cut short in the District semi-finals. The following athletes were recognized for their excellent performances: Bonnie Rasczyk, 1st Team All-City, Clevetta Minor and Pat Harmon, 2nd Team All-City, and Kathy Rasczyk and Kathy Balogh, All-City Honorable Mention.

Those "wild and crazy" JVs put aside inexperience and pressure to earn second place ratings in the City League. Coach Roberta Simon emphasized her team's good ball control, excellent setting and unique attitudes. The First Annual Woodward JV Volleyball Invitational held at WHS proved to be a success, with 9 teams participating. The Bears lost a close match to the Roger's Rams in the finals. Two year members: Ann Marie Pakulski, Nora Irwin, Jennette Sutton and Michelle Bell proved to be great assets for the team's success.

McCualsky Learns Ropes at WHS

A new experiment in coaching was tried this year for our J.V. Basketball team. Coach Kim McCualsky, a travelling physical education teacher for the Toledo Public Schools, has taken over the responsibility of training the Junior Varsity team. This spot had been left vacant with the promoting of last year's J.V. coach, Mr. Jim McGill, to the Varsity level.

Mr. McCualsky has been doing a fine job of 'learning the ropes' and we look forward to many successful seasons with him.

Varsity Cagers Have

There aren't any Julius Ervings or Rick Berrys on the 1978-79 Varsity Basketball Team. There are no large crowds, and it's usually very solemn and quiet after disappointing games. What you will find are a group of determined young men with an undying, optimistic attitude which has kept the team in motion. Under the guidance of first year coach, Jim McGill, the Bears have overcome inexperience, lack of height, and an adequate basketball training program. Coach McGill predicts the future of the Bears will lie in working to upgrade the present program.

An over-all team rebounding average of 40 has been upheld strongly by Clevetta Minor, Jackie Holewinski and Ann Marie Pakulski. Guiding the female cagers throughout their quest has been Coach Richard Taylor. His experience and expertise have only added strength to this already powerful squad.

WHS Blades Cut Into Top Competition

Faster than a speeding puck, more powerful than a lap shot, able to leap the boards in a single bound. . . what is it? Why, it's the Woodward Hockey Team performing its typically superhuman feats on the ice.

With a projected record of 13 and 8 the Bears have a second place finish 'in the bag.' Stopping over ninety percent of all shots fired on him, goalie Richard Van Camp had an amazing goal-against average of 3.23. Adding to this steel-trap defense were defensemen standouts Doug Van Camp and George Barber.

Able to spot the weakness of every opposing defense, the Bears' scoring 'punch' was highly successful. Jabbing mercilessly at the goal were offensive assets Robert Horner, Dean Metzger, Evan Walborn and Mike Hennig, while Charlie Baldwin led the team in goals with 34 for the season.

With a perfect, 22-0 season behind them, the 1979 Varsity Tennis Team hopes to accomplish what they didn't last year- the City League Championship Title. Coach Jim Bounds and the team have been improving their game during winter months at an area racket club and have worked hard at daily practices. With 11 varsity members returning, each singles and doubles positions remains strong and experienced. These qualities, plus a winning attitude, will be the deciding factors in their matchup with 1978 City League Champions, St. John's.

Ace singles player, Marvin Ransey, with Gary Archambeau, Mark Faught, Dennis Meacham, Robert Wright, and DuVall Overton paced the Bears last year with 1st Team, 2nd Team, and 4 Honorable Mention All-City recognitions. Three year members, Dave Bonnough and Jim Kan, are expected to round out this year's "championship" team.

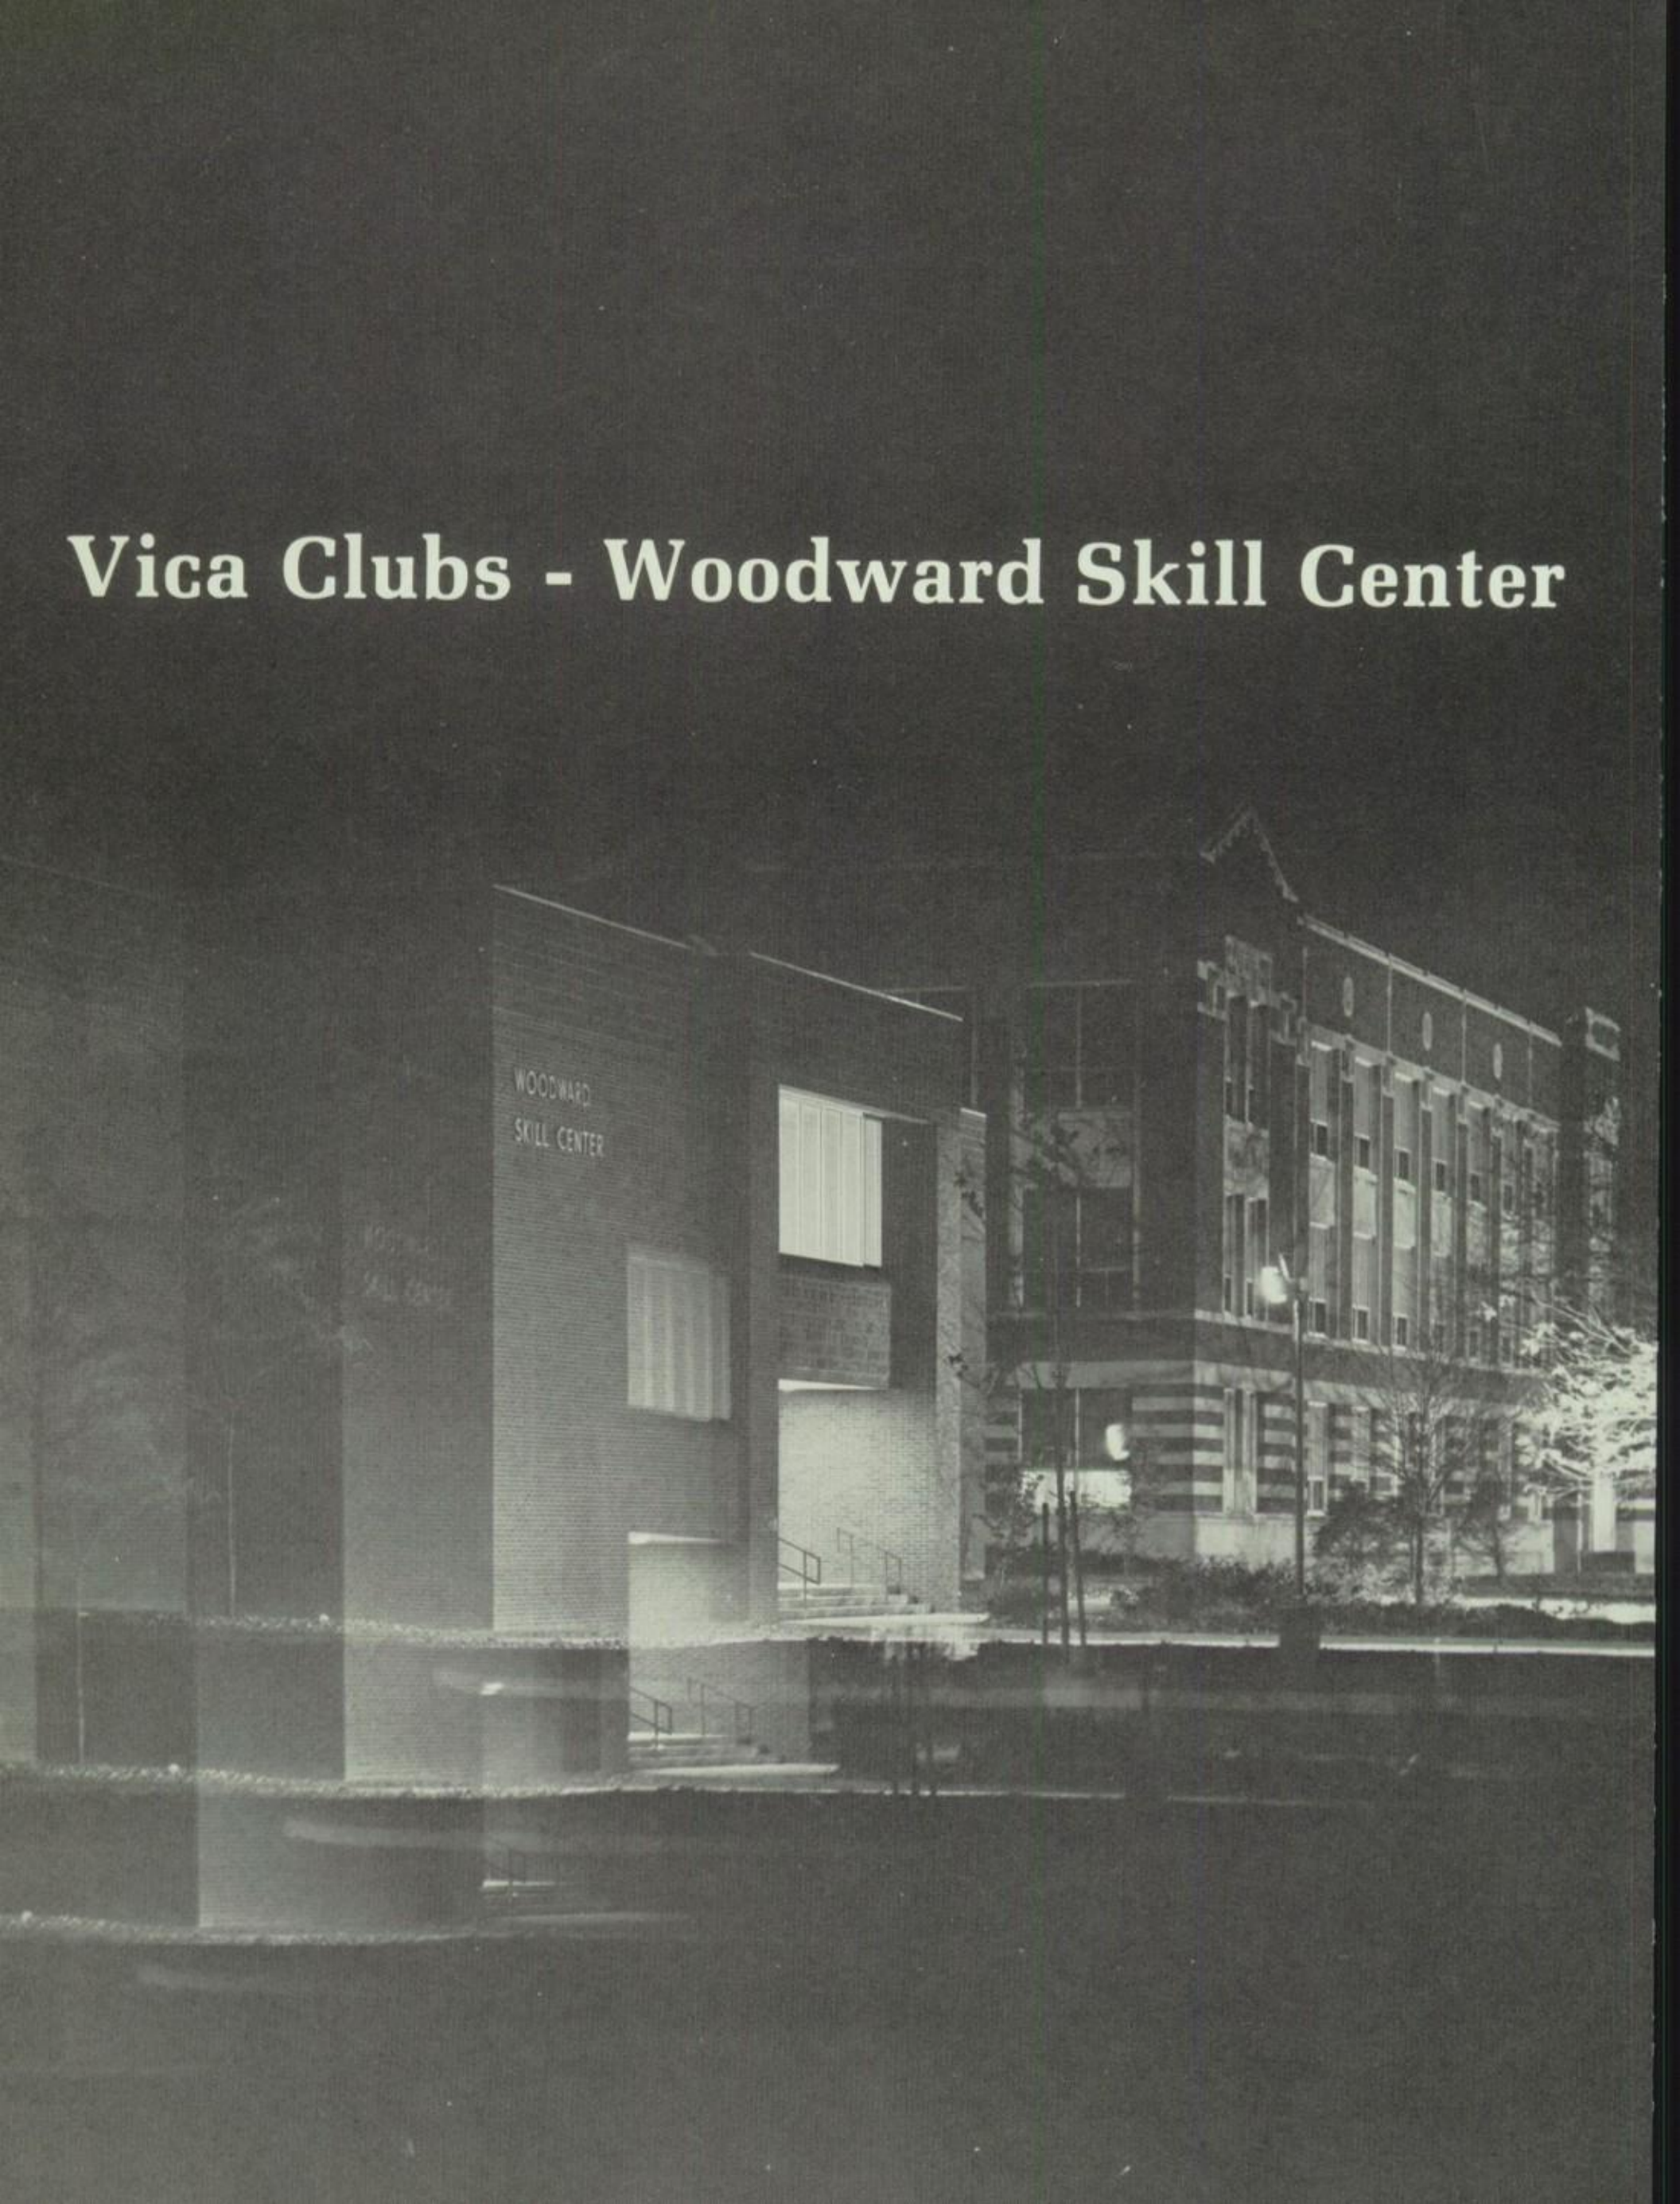
Vica Clubs - Woodward Skill Center



The Woodward Skill Center program was designed to teach vocational trades to students in the Toledo area. Those enrolled in this program gain practical experience in order to enter the working field of their choice.

A vocational student spends a protion of his school day in the academic classes to fulfill the English, math, science, and social studies requirments for graduation. Skill center courses take up an additional three hours of his day. This time period or "block" is divided into two areas: classroom instruction related to the field and the job training practicum.

Vocational courses offered at other Toledo high schools are available to Woodward students who are willing to travel.

Paramedical, Campus Life

The Woodworkers club attracts students who have artistic and woodcraft skills. Under the direction of Mr. Clements, the members of the club made the name plates for all of the teachers' doors. The students also enjoy tackling repair problems around the school as well as having candy sales to earn money.

Campus life is designed to unite students who share an interest in making a better, more balanced life. During club meetings, students discuss their problems, or listen to guest speakers. Mr. Simpson, club advisor, tries to stress the importance of Christian fellowship in today's busy society.

Members of the Paramedical club are interested in the field of medicine and health care. The major, annual event is the Red Cross blood drive. This drive is set up to get students over seventeen years of age, and staff members to donate badly needed blood. During this drive, Mrs. Rita Dilworth, club advisor, and energetic club members work to make the Woodward High School blood drive successful.

Afro - American, Mexican - American

Each year the Afro-American Club continues to grow in both size and popularity. Club advisor, Mrs. Anna Bolden, combines her authority with a spirited membership to sponsor an Afro-American Week. There is also a City-Wide Afro-American Ball held annually in which many of Woodward's Afro-American Club members attend.

Creating a pride in the Mexican-American culture is he main objective of the Mexican-American Club. Through school projects, social outings, and club meetings, Mr. Robert Garcia and Miss Alma Barrientos, club advisors, instill a sense of loyalty in each member.

If you are interested in the Classical languages or the culture of Rome, contact Mrs. Josephine Cox, advisor of the Junior Classical League. Learning about latin and just getting together are the major objectives of the club.

Each year, in the spring, the JCL Club travels to Columbus for a State-Wide JCL Convention. During this convention, everyone tries to gain recognition by running for state office. But win or lose, everyone still has a good time.

National Honor Societies

Becoming a member of the Junior National Honor Society is the first recognition a student receives on his way to achieving academic excellence. This year, twenty-eight students were inducted into this organization, which is an honor society for sophomores maintaining a 3.2 cumulative grade average.

Juniors and Seniors who have excelled in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service and character, are invited to become inducted into the National Senior Honor Society. These select students are endowed with many talents for developing spirit and pride at Woodward High School.

Quill and Dagger, Aequatatis

Where is the spirit in school? Just look to the literary societies of Woodward High School and you will find some.

The Philalethean, Periclean, and Zetalethean Literary Societies can be described as a unique group of young women outstanding in the field of friendship towards fellow members and classmates.

Aequatatis and Quill and Dagger are the literary societies for young men who show enthusiasm and pride in their school through their membership in these groups.

Members lend a helping hand in passing out favors to faculty members, raising funds through candy sales and bake sales, and performing miscellaneous school services.

"Hold your head high and get involved." is the motto every literary society member tries to follow.

Palette, Audio Visual and Ecology

The Palette club is comprised of students who share an interest in the fine arts. Pottery, painting, sculpting, and drawing are just a few of the areas in which the members dabble.

Each year the art department sponsors an art fair, at which time many of the members' creations are exhibited.

Looking for a movie projector? Wondering who sets up the sound system for mass meetings or whom you turn to when the light on the slide projector you were using just went out? Just ask Mr. Bolduan or one of the Audio Visual members for help. They're a dependable group always ready to give a hand.

The Ecology club is interested in improving environmental conditions. All of the members are concerned with the welfare of the Toledo area and strive to keep our community on top.
